Outline of the Citadel Product

The Citadel product was originally designed as a refuge for ships crew in the event of a pirate attack, it is also suitable for land based high risk environments where personnel and/or high value/critical material requires protection from attack.

Being self-supporting it can be deployed immediately on reaching the compound and includes power, sanitation, and water for up to 96 hours of independent use. Fitted within a standard 20ft ISO High Cube container and certified B6 armored defeating armor piercing AK47 rounds (7.9g API), the unit is also fire resistant. The unit includes the following: hygienic interior, ballistic resistant access door and two air conditioning units. To the rear is a concealed escape hatch and internally there is bench style seating, lavatory, storage room, water, food, and medical supplies.

Other key features are:

- HGI Diesel Generator
- Battery Banks
- Rectifier Panel
- 4 Point Ballistically Protected Forced Entry Locking System
- DC Ventilation and 2 Air Conditioning Units with External Air Shut Off
- Concealed Escape Hatch

- Infra-Red Marking Strobe to enable tactical location of the unit via night vision equipment, invisible to the naked eye and an Emergency Position Indicating Radio Beacon (EPIRB)
- Casualty Handling System
- Self-contained Thetford Chemical Toilet
- Hammocks
- 4 External Low Light Covert CCTV cameras with Digital Video Recorder (500GB Capacity)
